TRAPPIST BIÈRE

Trappist bières are brewed in monasteries by or under control of Trappist-Cistercian monks with only 10 Trappist-monasteries producing beer worldwide. Belgium has 6 Trappist breweries: Achel, Chimay, Orval, Rochefort, Westmalle & Westvleteren.

ABBEY BIÈRE

The term “abbey bières” originally applied to any monastic or monastic-style bière. After introduction of an official Trappist bière designation by the International Trappist Association in 1997, it came to mean products similar in style or presentation to monastic bières. In other words, an Abbey bière may be produced by a non-Trappist monastery.
